Happy New Year.
 The days are growing longer.
 How many of you have written it 1876.
 We launched out upon another year Monday.
 The Board of Supervisors will meet next Monday.
 Did you turn over a new leaf on Monday? You bet!

Saturdays have been the coldest days of each of the last five weeks.
 Wm. McDonald received a valuable Christmas present—a bouncing boy.
 The Odd Fellows held a public installation of officers at their hall last night.

Domino hop for the benefit of Alpine Boat Club, at Alpine Hall to-morrow night.
 The first masquerade of the season will take place at the skating rink this evening.

J. B. Tuttle has removed his law office to rooms on the second floor in the Hitecock block.
 It has been decided to give one more week vacation of our schools, and they will commence again next Monday.

Yesterday morning, T. M. Luce started for San Francisco, where he intends to take up his abode in the future.
 A small boy came rushing into the office yesterday, and excitedly exclaimed: "I got an item for you, but I forgot it."

Four inches more of snow was special over the vast extent of this section of the country New Year's night and yesterday.
 Chas. N. Cornell has fitted up a suit of rooms in the Hitecock block, where he intends to devote his time to architectural work.

Last Sunday morning, Hon. R. J. Kelley, Representative in the State Legislature from this district, started for Lansing to attend the present session of the Legislature.

A second ward man washed his feet last Sunday, and he is not able to be out yet, as it made him so top heavy that he is obliged to remain at home for a few days, learning to balance himself.

What is the matter with the City Treasurer that he does not pay over to the Treasurer of the school district the moneys belonging to said district, as requested by the Board of Education?

S. E. Hitecock has opened a real estate office, with J. K. Lockwood as manager, in the new brick block at the corner of First street and Washington avenue. Real estate bought and sold. The office is fitted up in a neat and convenient manner.

While a number of the young people were out on the bay skating on Monday, two of the boys found themselves enjoying the comforts of a cool bath to commence the year with. One of the youths, knowing that he needed a little assistance, called to his "chum" to bring him a chew of tobacco. No lives lost.

At the regular meeting of Alpena Lodge No. 170, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday evening of last week, the following officers were elected for the current term:

N. G. A. R. McDonald, V. G.—W. M. Gordon. Secy.—Johnson Hamilton. Treas.—Geo. N. Blackburn. Representatives to Grand Lodge.—A. Harshaw and H. J. Eaton.

Wm. Carney has commenced running a stage line for passengers and freight between this city and Osage Lake. The stage leaves the Union House every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, and returns the next day, making connections at Osage Lake with the trains on the J. L. & S. extension railroad. The trip is made from here to the railroad in twelve hours. The road on the route is reported in good condition.

Trinity Sunday School Social.
 There is no mirth like that of children. It is joy pure and untainted with care or trouble, and it is almost impossible for men and women to be unresponsive to its cheering influence. The youthful minds are too full for silent pleasure, such as is common to grown-up persons, and, therefore, their joys are manifested by boisterous shoutings, gleeful laughter, and uproarious merriments.

Such was the state of affairs at Trinity Rectory, last Thursday evening, when the Sunday School children, with their parents and friends, assembled to have their usual Christmas jubilee. The Rectory, which was turned over to the guests, was filled with happy people, determined upon having one evening's enjoyment, and as the childish shouts of merriment rang through the rooms, it must have stirred old memories in the minds of parents, as visions of their own childish merriment flitted through their minds.

The tables were filled with tempting luxuries, and as soon as one group had satisfied their appetites, another occupied their places, and this state of things continued until all present had satisfied their hunger. Mrs. Rafter, Mrs. Comstock, Miss Crowell, and other ladies presided at the piano, and favored those who were musically inclined with many choice pieces of music, which were much appreciated, especially the vocal accompaniments as given by Mrs. Rafter, Miss Crowell, and Miss Kelly. While Mrs. Rafter was singing and playing, the piano was the centre of attraction about which the young folks gathered, and as soon as one piece was finished, the children would beg for another lively song, which request was cheerfully granted.

The children seemed to be expecting some one, for every time the door-bell would ring, voices would shout out "here he comes," but the expected one failed to put in an appearance. The anxiety for the stranger was so great that a change of programme was necessary, and so a Santa Claus was hastily rigged out and soon made his appearance with a large number of stocking shaped bags filled with candies, etc., which he proceeded to dispense to the Sunday School children and their teachers.

After Santa Claus had presented his offerings, the company continued their socialities—the older ones in conversation, the children in amusements, and the music lovers in songs and piano music, until the children were tired and sleepy, and then the guests gradually said their good byes and retired, every one apparently well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

We noticed one little girl, seated in a corner, looking lovingly and longingly at her stocking full of sweet things. She evidently wanted to break into the package but some restraint impelled her not to, but the candies looked so tempting through the meshes of the bag, that she could not resist the temptation to press it to her lips and taste the sweets contained therein. It made a pretty picture to see the little one eyeing the treasure and arguing the question of open or not open, and finally decide on the compromise of taste through the bag.

New Year's Calls.
 According to arrangements which were made for the occasion, there were a goodly number of callers out on New Year's day, and the day was all that could be expected or desired—the weather being mild, the sleighing good, and a clear sky for the greater part of the day.

There were hosts of the ladies of the city who received calls, either at their own residence or with some friends, and thus assisted in making the day one long to be remembered by themselves and their calling friends.

Calling commenced at about twelve o'clock, and one could see the gay and happy parties as they traversed the different streets and called at the many places where they kept open house, and as they came from the entertaining society of their lady friends it was plain to perceive from the expression of their countenances that they were enjoying themselves in the most approved and pleasing manner, to say nothing of the good things they succeeded in "punishing" according to their excellent capacity for "stowing away" the proffered repasts.

To attempt to mention each and every one who kept open house would be too great a task for our confused ideas at this time, but suffice it to say that they were so numerous that the callers at many places were compelled to say "no thank you," when requested to partake of the refreshments that at most any time would appear so tempting that it was with much difficulty that they could refrain from indulging too freely—and thus lay themselves liable to a sleepless night and a headache next day.

It was not until a late hour that the calling ceased, and even then it was impossible for callers to go the entire rounds, as the task was too great. But, upon the whole, it was a day spent in a most pleasing manner, and duly enjoyed by all—the festivities of which we hope to see repeated at many a New Year in the future, as it doubtless will be, with callers more numerous each season.

Profitable Employment. Permanent Business.
 Read the large double-column advertisement of Kennedy & Co., in this paper. Read it all. Study and accept the facts. The advertisers are worthy of confidence, and their assertions can be relied on. Parties remitting money can be fully assured that they will receive just what is promised. The liberality and enterprise of Messrs. Kennedy & Co. are shown by the fact that they give to each agent a coin silver hunting case watch. We have seen and examined this watch and are able to say that it is every way equal to what is claimed for it. They want an agent in this county; some likely reader of this paper will get the remedy they offer is popular, the profits large, the business all your own. If you do not wish another to bear away the prize, answer this advertisement at once, and remit for sample dozen, and you will thank us for advising you, and thus giving you a business as long as you live—permanent, profitable, honorable, pleasant. Who could ask more?

"The New York Saturday Journal" is now the leading literary paper of New York, a credit we can cheerfully endorse. It adds to its attractions by bestowing on all subscribers for four months (one dollar) an exquisite oleograph chromo, "Look at Me Mamma," a companion piece to "Fast Asleep" and "Wide Awake," only more beautiful and valuable than they. This oleograph we have received, and regard it as one of the best chromos ever presented as a premium by any weekly paper—a very charming picture indeed—an ornament to any room.

We will receive and forward all subscriptions to the Saturday Journal, or will club it with our own paper, furnish the Journal for four months and the chromo, with our own paper, for the sum of $2.75. The publishers' price for the Saturday Journal alone is $3.00 a year, $1.00 for four months.

The Great Household Remedy.
 Even where a physician is depended on in a case of sickness, it is always well to have at hand a simple and effective remedy adapted to the widest range of diseases. Especially is this true of pains, aches and sudden attacks of acute disease. For these and for a surprising number of malignant and fatal complaints, Dr. Radcliff's Seven Seas or Golden Wonder never fails when used in time. With this great household remedy you may in fact dispense with the ordinary visits of your physician, reserving his attendance for cases of emergency only. The proprietor of this medicine has thousands of certificates attesting its efficacy in diseases of almost every description, acute and chronic.

Young Folks' Monthly.
 The Young Folks' Monthly, published by Milton Rogers, Chicago, Illinois, is a splendid work for the young members of the household. It consists of thirty-two pages of three columns each. It is enclosed in a neat paper cover and is illustrated. The articles treat of adventures, biographies, travels, nature, history, stories, fun, puzzles, etc., etc. The Center Table, where the editor and a number of the youthful subscribers hold their monthly conversations, by means of letters, is a very interesting and useful department. Each number is so complete that it may be read by itself, and in every family circle, as it not only furnishes amusement and mental recreation, but gives interesting and useful facts about things that should be known. Price $1 per year, postage prepaid.

The Man Without a Country.
 No. 60 of the Lakeside Library contains the above splendid story by E. E. Hale; "They Saw a Great Light," by the same author; "Familiar Quotations Humorously Illustrated," by F. H. Seymour; "A Dream-Love," by H. S. Clark; "The Sackful of Sovereigns," "The Parson's Pupils," by S. J. May; "Our Two Squires," etc., etc. This excellent number is profusely illustrated with over fifty engravings. Price, only 10 cents; by mail, 12 cents. Sold by all newsdealers, or sent postpaid by Donnelly, Lloyd & Co., publishers Chicago.

Holloways Ointment.—Erysipelas and all inflammatory diseases yield to a diligent use of this powerful preparation. In the foot, hand and neck, their approach should be checked at once—if suppuration ensues, danger is imminent, and the knife cannot be employed without jeopardizing life. This ointment will remove the disorder, without cutting, pain or peril. 25 cents per box or pot.
